

RIG MOVES & RIG MOVE CONSULTANCY

RIG MOVES & RIG MOVE CONSULTANCY

Wagenborg Foxdrill is an expert when it comes to rig moves with over 40 years of rig moving experience. Rigs are disassembled on site, loaded, transported and assembled again on the new drilling site, all while working safely and efficiently. Both land rigs and modular offshore rigs can be moved by our teams, in any condition: desert, arctic and even jungle environments. We have moved rigs in all corners of the world and various types/configurations as well, including: swing-lift, slingshot, box-on-box. Efficiency and safety are the foundation for any rig moving project we carry out, reducing your rig move time to a minimum is our objective. In the past we have realised reductions of up to 10 days (depending on rig type and conditions).

Wagenborg Foxdrill offers a 'door-to-door' service by mobilizing in-house equipment required for every rig move, including mobile cranes, trucks, rigging equipment and even cargo ships for overseas rig moves.

We also offer our many years of rig move experience in the form of consultancy. By observing/reviewing your project preparations, assembly activities, equipment and crew competence, we can provide valuable insights to reduce rig moving time while improving safety of operations, all at once. Our findings are issued in a clear and concise report, which can be used directly to improve your approach. Additionally we can provide you with rig move manuals (including 3D drawings) and rig move animations to instruct your crews. Move-the-rig-on-paper sessions are also possible to identify possible bottlenecks in advance of the actual move.
